Hon. Geoffery Diehl
State Representative
State House, Room 167
Boston, MA 2133

Dear Representative Diehl:

Our nation has been here before. A major piece of legislation affecting all Americans, after strenuous and contentious debate, has been upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. While it is possible that the Affordable Care Act (ACA) may be amended by some future Congress, the fact is, all states are under a deadline to implement its major provisions. As the saying goes, prior planning prevents poor performance.

To help you position your state to respond effectively to this new law, we cordially invite you to be part of a most important discussion scheduled to take place at America's premier healthcare university and hospital, Johns Hopkins Medicine in Baltimore, Maryland on September 13 - 15, 2012.

There is a great deal of heated rhetoric surrounding this law. Our program, headed up by some of the leading health practitioners in the world, will closely examine various claims, both positive and negative, and assess their validity. Which ones are factual? How can they be addressed? What steps can you take, within the confines of this new law, to assure that the people in your state have health care that is accessible, affordable and of the highest quality?

Further, we will look at what some states are already doing to prepare for implementation of the ACA, especially when it comes to insurance exchanges and the expansion of Medicaid. Our overriding goal is to provide you with timely, accurate and comprehensive data to help you make the best decisions for the people of your state.

Also, in addition to these important discussions, on Saturday we are planning a special program focusing on wellness and what you and your family can do to protect your health and maintain the best quality of life possible - valuable insights for you and the citizens of your state.

We are expecting more than 40 state legislative leaders from across the country to attend, many with their spouses who are invited to take part in our deliberations and for whom we have designed a special program. All participants will stay at the Four Seasons Hotel Baltimore. The State Legislative Leaders Foundation, a nonprofit, nonpartisan, independent, 501(c)(3) corporation, will cover two nights lodging, all scheduled meals, program tuition and special events. SLLF will also provide a travel allowance of up to $750 for each attending legislative leader.

I can assure you the discussions will be engaging, relevant and on point, and the chance to meet, work with, and get to know your fellow legislative leaders from across the country is an opportunity you should not pass up. Not only because of the new friendships that will assuredly develop, but also because complex problems are better solved when we marshal our resources. Legislative leaders working together on a common set of problems is a powerful prescription for success.

To register for this program, please see the enclosed information sheet.

Very truly yours,

Stephen G. Lakis
President
